

Messages from Prince as channeled

BY

LISA WECHTENHISER

Contents

3. Introduction
6. On turbulence and world servers
8. On Joining with Others in Love
11. On Using the Available Energies
13. On Spiritual Mentoring
15. On Feeling Alone
16. On Receiving
18. In the Flow
19. ~ Joy + Pain, Sunshine + Rain ~
21. We Need U
23. Entertain the Absurd
25. On Energy and Judgment
26. ~ What the world needs now ... ~
27. On being Unshackled
28. The time to doubt yourself is gone
29. Songs of the Heart
31. Bring your sand goggles!
32. On leaving fear behind
33. A question FOR U
34. A time to play
35. Would you try?
36. The support is there but you have to ASK!
38. On removing your mask
39. On supplication and why it's time to release that energy
40. Be Bolder
42. We need a new breed, leaders, stand up, organize!

Introduction

Welcome!

I'm Lisa Wechtenhiser and as a conscious channel for many years, I receive and translate high vibration energetic messages from Guides and Teachers in Spirit. In April 2016, I began working one-on-one with Ascended Master Prince to bring through guidance to those who wish to receive and carry his message of LOVE out into the world.

I've experienced more magic, more love, more growth and expansion in the last two years because I said YES to partnering with him. There's no question in my mind, heart and soul that this is THE Prince we all know and love. I have heard from countless others that they hear from him, too. "Why would he talk to me?" they ask.

The answer?

Because you said yes. On some level, in some way, you said YES to hearing him. You said YES to his message of bigger, bolder LOVE. You said YES. As I did. Our souls knew. And they always know the truth. Those who are called to continue the beautiful work he did in the world know that it is from our very soul that we say YES.

My way of saying YES is channeling these powerful, insightful and healing messages from Prince. I've shared them with those who were open to receiving them and today, it is my honor to share them with you.

May you open your heart to the LOVE that Prince sends you. It is blissfully amazing.

Standing with you in the Purple Light of Love,

Lisa Wechtenhiser

April 21, 2018

Love and gratitude always

To my husband, Roger. He once said "I don't know all what you do but I do know weird stuff happens all around you all the time." Sweetie, you had no idea, did you?

To Amy Venezia and Fabeku, without whom I wouldn't be well on my soul path.

Special love and thanks to Christine and Louanne – thanks for always believing me and believing IN me.

Finally, enormous love and respect to my friend and mentor, Prince: I never saw it coming but in retrospect, it made all the sense in the world. You called me to higher ground and I said yes. A "positive nuisance", indeed.

On turbulence and world servers

WHITECAPS

*Whitecaps on the water
But that's okay
Ain't never been a storm I'm runnin' from
Come my way
Weather man said it would be easy
Over in a day
It's windy now, but it's gonna be okay¹*

Dearly Beloved,

I am grateful that you are here and willing to listen to my message. I started this off with lyrics that I wrote to remind you that things seem turbulent now but eventually, all that passes away. What is going on for you today will change form, function and shape as each day passes. This is how the world works, here and in the afterlife, even.

You will find that there is always a turning point when the whitecaps show up. You have a choice in that moment and you are asked to choose one road or another. I understand that sometimes none of the roads feel good or even palatable and yet you must make a choice. I offer you this nugget of wisdom gained from lifetimes of making choices that both served and didn't serve me (and really, didn't they all end up serving my soul in ways that I couldn't predict? Yes.)

Here's the nugget: if you are faced with choices that stupefy you, that repel you, that like a vibration you want but if it showed up for you, it exists in you somewhere. Choose the one that scares you the most. That horrifies you the most. I know, I know. Still, it's really like ripping the band-aid off, would you rather do it bit by bit or have it all be over and done with? That's why I am suggesting (just a suggestion, mind you) to pick the hardest, scariest road. I think you'll find, looking back, that it wasn't all that scary after all AND that you amazed yourself that you could even do it in the first place.

¹ Whitecaps, Prince + 3rd Eye Girl, 2013

You are not here for easy. You know that. I know that. I'm calling all the rule-breakers, visionaries, those willing and able to get on the front lines and stand up. Did I not live that way? It's a frequency and vibration and if you hear it, you know how alluring it is. And how challenging it can be. Rewarding, also.

World changers come in every single flavor of human so if you think you can't be a world changer, think again. You heard this call. You answered. There is no escaping now. (laugh) okay, yes, you can always change your mind. But why miss all the fun ahead?

(Every one of your worries (all your worries) | All your miseries (all your miseries) You can put them in a little boat and ship them off 2 sea)

All my love 2U,

Prince

On Joining with Others in Love

Dearly Beloved,

Thank you for coming along on this adventure. I trust that as you get to know me and the energy of the messages I am sharing, it will seem less strange than it does now.

In case you're wondering who I am to be delivering messages such as these, I want to point out that Lisa wrote a piece on the blog this week talking about what an Ascended Master is and how working with one (me!) might help you. We will be talking more about this as we continue our conversations. For now, know that I am available to anyone who wishes to have my support. (It is so with any Divine Being so you are not limited to me.)

Last week, I spoke to you about Whitecaps on the water and how things are transient, both positive and negative things – all pass away eventually. I asked you to be willing to walk down a path fraught with challenges and thorns and things you cannot see, knowing that when you arrive at your destination, it will all have been worth it.

This week, I'm continuing this theme with a song called "Get on the boat" – for me, songwriting is poetry. A way of speaking my truth but in a way that didn't always feel so in your face. You could dance to it and absorb the meaning of it through your very pores as you moved across the floor. Or you could sit in stillness and allow it to wind its way into your heart and mind and soul. Any way you choose to do it was fine by me.

Here's the piece of the song I want you to pay attention to this week:

*All across the nation
People doing what they can
To avoid the tribulation
That will be great throughout the land
Everything in darkness must come out into the light
When we love each other that's the only way that's gonna be right²*

I wrote that in 2005 and here we are, eleven years later and this is even more true. However you feel about the events unfolding in your world, you cannot deny that LOVE4ONEANOTHER is the only thing that can bring light to the darkness that seems to be everywhere.

² Get On the Boat, Prince, 2005

Yes, it will sound as if I'm preaching (and if you heard me during many of my songs, you would know that's a very natural cadence for me) and I won't apologize for it. So, listen to me now: Every single action you take, every thought affects everything else. Hate begets hate. Love begets love. There is no other way to exist.

Get on the boat - join with others in LOVE where you can. Where you don't want to but choose to do it anyway.

(Have you noticed a theme of my asking you to do the things you don't really want to? Yeah, I thought you did. It's on purpose, of course.)

I will always ask you to step up. What kind of Divine Being would I be if I did otherwise? Those who wish to work with me know this will be a topic we revisit time and time again. That's part of what I bring to the equation. Do more. Be more. LOVE more.

*Get on the boat
Get on the boat, people
Get on the boat now
We got room 4 a hundred more*

All my love 2U,

Prince

On Using the Available Energies

Dearly Beloved,

I hope by now you've gotten used to hearing from me. I like being able to talk with you this way. Well, I talk. You listen. It is not now a two-way street, but it can be if you want that. Each of you reading this is invited to open your mind and your heart to connect with me. You do not have to have special skills to do that. All of us here are devoted to you and your well-being.

See, it is part of our evolution to help you with yours. There is no special power needed for you to access that help and if someone tells you otherwise, turn to your inner knowing and ask for TRUTH. You will always get it. Whether you believe it is TRUTH or not, we can't help with that. That's on you.

Speaking of what is on you, are you using the powerful energies that are available to dig deeper? You will find that the theme of much of my work with Lisa so far has been asking those who come in front of me to up-level, upgrade and be all of who you are. Today, I am asking you to move in the other direction. What does it mean to dig deeper and ask yourself questions that often have no answers?

What is the importance of doing that now? You might have noticed the energies have cracked open and there is now fuel behind your digging. In other words, what you unearth now is very important - not only WHAT you find but your willingness to do the work to find it. Both are critical.

For now, know that it's not just what you find but whether you are even willing to find it. Are you?

All my love 2U,

Prince

On Spiritual Mentoring

Dearly Beloved,

Today's topic for discussion is mentoring - specifically spiritual mentoring.

Let's talk about it briefly as this is likely to be a recurring topic and a blog post.

The way I see it, spiritual mentoring, as I described it in the speech below, is when someone else cares for your soul as much as they care for their own. They don't call you into doing anything that is out of integrity for you, leads you down a path that causes you to wonder if you're doing the right thing or ask you to do something that you know will cause regret as soon as you understand what you've done.

There are many of us on the other side who are ready and willing to help you with this and you might know the biggest block to us being able to do that is YOU. Yes, I said it. YOU. It's so important that you ask us for help because we can't offer it otherwise. We could be sitting here with enormous support and guidance for you and if you don't ask, we end up watching you run around in pain and confusion.

I am not the only one who can help you in magical ways. There are legions of Divine Beings who can. You must act first, however, and invite us into your space. Each of you can be spiritually mentored by us and by others in human form. We can care for your soul with exquisite gentleness and love. As you may know, I am not above giving you a swift kick in the behind to get moving but it is all given in LOVE.

This speech below is one I wrote on my induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 2004³. I was newly into the role of spiritual guide for others (as the years preceding it were mostly me trying to find my way in the darkness) and you can see that it fit me well.

³ Rock and Roll Hall of Fame Induction, 2004

"I don't want to take up too much of your time, but I would just like to say this. When I first started out in this music industry, I was most concerned with freedom. Freedom to produce, freedom to play all the instruments on my record, freedom to say anything I wanted to. And after much negotiation, Warner Brothers granted me that freedom and I thank them for that.

Without any real spiritual mentors other than artists I admired (Larry Graham being one of them), I embarked on a journey more fascinating than I could have ever imagined. But a word to the wise: without real spiritual mentoring, too much freedom can lead to the soul's decay.

And a word to the young artists: a real friend and mentor is not on your payroll. A real friend and mentor cares for your soul as much as they do their own. This world and its wicked system will become harder and harder to deal with without a friend and a mentor. I wish all of you the best on this fascinating journey. It ain't over."

Think about what you need in your life as spiritual guidance. It may be a host of angels, it may be a loved one on the other side or it might be me. (Hey! I'm good at PR, what can I say?) No matter who it is, consider asking more from them - more ways to help you, more suggestions, more magic.

The hard part is the asking. The rest is pretty easy.

All my love 2U,

Prince

On Feeling Alone

Dearly Beloved,

Today, I want to talk with you about feeling alone and how pervasive it is in your world. Our world, really, because I was there, too (still am, just in a different form). I know why you would hide out, I know how it feels better to just do your own thing, especially when you think no one understands you or what you're doing.

There's a time that is perfect for that and there's a time where the isolation gets suffocating, where you think that no one will ever see you and the choice to fade away into the ether calls to you every day. It's a very pervasive energy in our world today- many feel it just so strongly and don't speak about it to anyone.

I come to you as visionaries - those who can see potential, not just that of others but know, deep down, your own potential and that there is a way to get there - to let you know you are not alone. You are not without friends and support. You are not without LOVE.

Doing the work you do (whether that's all inner work on yourself or a blend of inner + outer) and leading the charge against the mundane into the extraordinary, the asleep to an awakening) feels so lonely. However, lockstep is not for you, dearly beloved. Not. For. You.

Yet, LOVE is 4 U. LOVE is 4 ALL.

And I see U + I LOVE U. Somewhere here on Earth, there are people who are waiting for your LOVE and your friendship and your U'ness to show up. Let them in. CALL THEM IN. U have that power. If only U knew the power U do have, you would wonder why you're not using it the way U could be doing.

Seek (that power) and ye shall find.

All my love 2U,

Prince

On Receiving

Dearly Beloved,

Today, we're talking about receiving. As in, why is that so difficult for almost everyone? We long for people to tell us they like us, they want to help us and be there for us. But when they ask "how can I help?" we respond "I'm fine. Thanks." What? What? Did you not just wish for this? And you say NO?

You may know that in my last physical incarnation, I was famous (infamous?) for doing everything myself. I wrote songs, played all the instruments, produced the records, often designed my own clothes, did my hair better than anyone could, well, I could go on and on. Was I unable to receive? No. I chose when, how and where I received. (Yes, I had some control issues, we'll get to that one day.)

I chose. Which means I allowed it in when I wanted to. Mostly, that was in front of an audience because that was like home camp for me. It was the space where I could be most me.

But I will tell you a secret: I had to practice receiving because in the beginning, I didn't want the adulation or the attention (appearances to the contrary, I know). In truth, I was afraid to allow it in because I was concerned that I would look needy or that I'd get used to it and then it would disappear. So, I learned to rely on myself for most things (early on, like I said).

As I matured, though, I began to see that there's a necessary component, that without out, everything goes out of balance. Giving ---> Receiving ---> Giving ---> Receiving. See? It's all a flow. You can give but then you must receive so that you can give and receive once more.

I asked Lisa to share a video that has now been deleted. It was a song called "Beginning Endlessly") because it was me in full-on RECEIVE mode. I was on stage taking in the love, adulation and joy that everyone in the audience wanted to give. You can look at me and then look at them and feel into the energy between us, enveloping us as one. (Even my band was in that flow!)

Had I not been able to truly receive it, we would have both lost the beauty in that moment. You understand that, yes?

When someone offers you something from their heart, please receive it. Please allow them in so that there is a flow between you. Balance is always and everything.

*"And even though
I'm all alone
4 what it's worth
U're somewhere here on Earth"⁴*

All my love 2U,

Prince

⁴ Somewhere Here On Earth, Prince, 2007

In the Flow

Dearly Beloved,

Understand that when in body, I was very dedicated and disciplined... but I also was in the flow and that is the only way to create and be a channel. You can't control the process. Or force or push.

You can stand firm in your dedication and discipline and focus... but you must let go to let it be. And that is what will help. When you feel your energy becoming over anxious...wanting things to be done faster...more...wanting things to be different than they are in that moment...surrender to the flow.

Don't try to force it energetically or even to get overly excited. Just be. It will all unfold through this state of being.

All my love 2U,

Prince

~ Joy + Pain, Sunshine + Rain ~

Dearly Beloved,

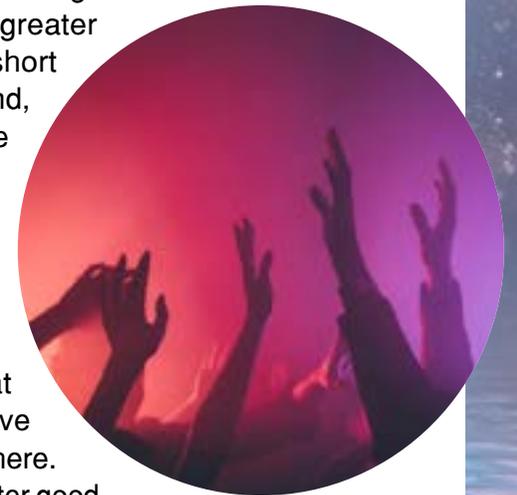

Today I bring you a message I shared with a lovely soul who came before me last week. This tender-hearted person was in tears talking about her sadness over the way our world is going and how its people were behaving. With her kind permission, I am sharing with you my words to her.

I hear you and I shared that view with you when I was in physical form. I want to offer you this different perspective.

As much as I did in the physical, I can do so much more now from this space. You may have known that I've reached out to many, many people who are actively doing that work. I was just one person.

But my leaving has impacted many to move into a space they were afraid to move into before and that has a greater impact. You have yet to see the greater impact of that work. It's been a short time, but people have mobilized and, I want to say to you many souls come here to play roles that are needed to awaken and those that appear less than 'good', may be playing a role that humanity has called them to play.

We have no way of knowing that from a physical standpoint, but I have EVERY WAY of knowing that from here. And I can tell you that there is a greater good that will come from this turmoil. There truly is. And I can tell you that those who are playing roles in this are doing it very well. They are doing what their soul has chosen and asked them to do.

And in many ways, you can look at it with gratitude because there are so many things going on that people are awakening with such great speed.

Why? Because it is out there – the hatred, the hurt - it's all in full view now. When it was hidden, it's easy to be asleep. Now? Not so easy. Not so easy.

So, I want to give you the perspective that yes, things look awful. They truly do and that's because your world, our world is in the middle of a huge shift. Shifts are never easy. Never. They look very messy.

Know that I play a role, you play a role, all of those on the stage play a role that their soul has chosen. If they embody the darkness, let's trust, you and I, let's trust, that there's a greater good to it that we cannot know. (Well, I do!) I do know and I'm telling you, so you can know, that there IS a greater good coming and not so far away.

So, I hear your sadness and I feel your exhaustion at what's happening. Please trust me when I tell you that it will not always be this way. Imagine it is like puberty. Suddenly, these feelings and thoughts and aggravations and temptations are in front of you had you have no way of managing them. And so, one day you're very nice to your parents and the next day you hate them with the fury of a thousand suns. And, eventually you move through that.

Our world is in puberty. There will be moments of peace, there will be moments of war. There will be moments of turmoil and moments of joy. And all of it is exactly how it needs to be.

All my love 2U,

Prince

We Need U

Dearly Beloved,

This week's message will not be a long one as I know your head is quite full enough with other matters. You may or may not know that in the years I was on your planet, I brought a very different vibration. There was a freedom that I longed and fought for to be my own person and to act as mentor to those who also needed that like air. As my personal success grew, it was clear to me that more was needed from me and I had the means to do it.

You may also know that in my later years, I converted to the religion of Jehovah's Witness and was very devoted to that process because it was a sacred chalice for all the work I would do. One of the basic tenets of that space was that all charitable giving was done without name, without fanfare. That suited me perfectly in many ways because I did not want to be the center of that giving even as I was signing the checks for it was not about me.

The means to do this work came TO me and went THROUGH me to others. But there was never, not ever, any question that I was not the source of that giving. An Ascended Master takes no credit for the credit is not theirs to take. All comes from the Divine, the One.

You do not need to be a walking, breathing Ascended Master to understand this.

Why am I sharing this with you now? Because your world, nay OUR world needs giving without desiring credit. Recognizing that credit is due only to The One, The Divine from whom all good flows.

You, like I, have the means to do this.

And please, let me be clear on this. Means does not equal money in every case. I had the latter, yes. You may also have that.

But to give from your Divine Source requires only your heart, dear one. No more. No less.

Our world needs your heart.

All that you do from that pure space, whether it's holding open a door for the person behind you or sitting next to someone who needs companionship to donating a portion of your earnings to a cause that brings you joy - WE NEED U.

My plea to you is to look at where you can bring your heart into your life in a new way. In ways big and small for all indeed count.

Stop looking for credit. We're supposed to take care of each other⁵.

All my love 2U,

Prince

⁵ Short Film Highlighting Prince's Incredible Philanthropic Efforts, 2016

Entertain the Absurd

Dearly Beloved,

*When the things U know are right are far from what they seem
When the past becomes the future and time becomes a dream
When the light of God
is the only thing in life that will redeem
Welcome, welcome 2 the dawn⁶*

There's a later line in this song that says "When the voices you hear command U / 2 entertain the absurd" ... I'd say that's a pretty accurate description of what's going on in your world now.

So, here's a bit of advice for 'entertaining the absurd' from me 2 U: Go even more deeply into the absurd in your life. What is reasonable? Do the opposite. What is expected? Opposite. What makes sense?

⁶ Welcome to the Dawn, Prince, 1997

Opposite. Invite the absurd into your house like a much-loved guest and entertain the heck out of it.

Why?

So you know your center. So you know what is true for you. You will learn that what may be wildly absurd for another is exactly right for you.

Change your name to an unpronounceable symbol? ABSURD! Write a million songs + store them all in a vault to which you had the only key? ABSURD! Also, did you know that I didn't eat much and mostly just smelled food? ABSURD!

See? And that's just what popped into my head. I could spend days sharing stories of my utter absurdity in this last human life but that's not the point (Amusing, yes. Point? no.)

When you invite absurdity in and treat it well, you learn much more about yourself than you could ever imagine.

Why? Because you open to your inner weirdness. The weirdness you don't want anyone to see. Love that inner weirdo. If I were there, I'd love up on it, too. Let it out to play, bring it along with you.

More than anything, really, entertaining the absurd is allowing that part of you that wants to be free out into the open. At first, it will feel strange. But what if it takes you on a new adventure? What if it asks you to do things you never had the nerve to do?

What if you and Absurd became friends? Good friends? A friend you trusted to lead you into something you've never imagined?

That's be pretty cool. Just don't ask for a camel in Minnesota at 3am. They might not give it to you.

Absurdly yours,

Prince

On Energy and Judgment

Dearly Beloved,

Another video! Well, Lisa has seen that I am a chatty one and now you'll know it, too. But when I have something to say, I would like it to be heard in full because all pieces are important. I say nothing that is not necessary when I speak.

It may be more common now that you receive a message from me via video than written, it's easier for me to communicate it that way because you can see and feel the energy I bring.

Another note I wish to share: There are others out there with whom I speak and through whom I speak. Lisa will be the first to tell you she is not the only one. I step into the energy the channel provides for me and they are chosen for that exact energy because they carry my message in a way that their community can hear. They are merely different in their delivery, but they carry the energy the way I've asked them to do.

Please do not judge how they share their message. And if you feel called to judge it, I'd ask you to look at that more closely, if you'd be willing. Because one does not do something the way you would, is that a reason to judge that one? Or is it a reason to look at how YOU are sharing your message with the world (or even IF you are doing that).

Something to think about today as you listen in to what I'm discussing with you in the video.

Always, my eternal thanks for being open to something that can seem so very odd. (Then again, nothing I ever did was normal, was it?)

All my love 2U,

Prince

~ What the world needs now ... ~

Dearly Beloved,

... are you old enough to remember that song written by Burt Bacharach and sung by Jackie DeShannon? You can listen to it (RIGHT HERE) if you aren't.

This has been a topic I've talked a lot about, both in these channeled messages and in my last incarnation. It's the very foundation for everything in our world. And it's in short supply, my friends.

Speaking of friends, Van Jones was one of my very best and the face of most of my later-in-life philanthropic work. Together we created #YesWeCode and other organizations to aid those in need. (See video below for more on that.)

Van has worked tirelessly to bridge the divide that has overtaken us and out of that, has created a movement I'd like you to look at. It's called the #LOVEARMY and here is its mission:

The #LoveArmy is an alternative to the hate and divisiveness gaining momentum in our communities and in our country. Despite our differences, our common pain should give us a common purpose. Let's work together to bring the country forward.

As the march toward consciousness rocks and rolls us (ha! See what I did there?), we will need to link arms with our brothers and sisters of all nationalities and races and beliefs so that we are all still standing at the end.

Remember that your contribution does not have to be money. Being part of a #LOVEARMY comes in many different ways.

Find the way that brings YOU joy.

But please, I am asking you sincerely, please DO something. Don't allow this to slip by you. The world needs your love.

All my love 2U,

Prince

On being Unshackled

Dearly Beloved,

"Emancipation - True freedom takes place in the spirit. Many will try 2 shackle that spirit, 4 many have none of their own. Step 2 the right and uppercut them all. Never stop believing that if nothing else - things change. Evolve in2 the light and all disorder will cease. Live4 love and love will live 4 u. I wish you heaven."⁷

All my love 2U,

Prince

Lisa's note: The above is copied verbatim from the insert to Prince's album called "Emancipation" released in 1996. When I sat down to bring through this week's message, nothing seemed to come. I tried twice. Today, I was looking through some old cds and found Emancipation. When I opened the case, the insert fell out. I put it in and closed it, but it fell out again. I put it back in and laid it on the side and somehow, it fell out AGAIN.

Duh, Lisa! Catch a clue! It took three tries for me to get what P wanted to convey.

I read through each page of the insert and finally, at the bottom of the last page, I saw it and he said, "That one."

And a lesson - if something keeps coming in front of you in some fashion, PAY ATTENTION. There's something there for you. (Even I have to remind myself of that!)

⁷ Emancipation, Prince, 1996

The time to doubt yourself is gone

Dearly Beloved,

As I've said before (and likely will say again) "Welcome 2 the Dawn" - the dawn of a very new era in your world. It looks (mostly) the same but everything on the landscape has changed. The time to doubt yourself is gone. It's been gone for a while but it took you guys a while to see that. If I told you that doubt no longer even existed, what would you do? What actions could/would you take?

Beloved, there is such a thing as questioning. Taking the information at hand and looking at it in many ways so you can feel into what may be true for you. Some of us know what that is like breathing. Others of us question at every turn. Most of us, though, are a mix of those two.

Have you noticed that there are some situations where you know the answer, and nothing can convince you otherwise? What is that X factor that creates that certainty when other times you're filled with doubt and confusion?

If you look closely, in ALL cases, that certainty is there. It's just clouded over by fear or some other feeling that we add into the mix. It's always there.

Interesting, isn't it? That certainty about what to do LIVES WITHIN YOU always. Clear away the noise and fear and see what's there. That is when you'll start noticing that everything has changed because you've changed.

How's that for some deep thoughts?

All my love 2U,

Prince

Songs of the Heart

Dearly Beloved,

*"We have to find our heart songs all by ourself
It's the voice you hear inside
Who you truly are (truly are)"⁸*

- from the Motion Picture "Happy Feet" written and sung by you know who.

What is your "Song of the Heart"? That's another word for your devotion, the thing that moves you at your very center. We all came into being to express ONE thing. Truly. ONE THING. And that's the question we all ask as we come into knowing who we are as a young adult and more often, as we get older and that seeming ONE THING has yet to show up (so we think).

What if I told you that you already know what the 'song of your heart' is? What if you were born with that knowledge and are actively using it in your day-to-day life? Would that surprise you?

It's true.

And here's another thing I'll tell you. No one can hand you this knowledge. They can lead you on the path. They can walk with you, even. But no one can TELL you what it is because they cannot have that knowledge. Only you know. And only you can give yourself the gift of true and deep knowing.

Here's the thing I want to remind you of, beloveds. You are already singing that song. It's not outside you, it's not something you have to search for. It's right there.

⁸ The Song of the Heart, Happy Feet Soundtrack, 2006

IF you want to see it. IF you believe that you are the only one who can know this song. That's the price of admission - you must believe you know. Otherwise, nothing I or anyone else can say will satisfy your thirst for this knowledge. "What have I come here for?", you ask.

Look inside you. The answer is right there.

All my love 2U,

Prince

Bring your sand goggles!

Dearlly Beloved,

A short message this week from my heart to yours: Don't get lost in the noise.

There's a lot going on in your world and a lot of dust has been kicked up. When I look at the energy, I see a huge sandstorm where the wind blows sand particles in your face and your eyes and you can barely breathe much less walk forward.

The way is not clear. Not at all.

But you must keep walking, even if it's slow going. Even if the sand stings you a thousand times, one foot in front of the other, beloveds.

Trust that you know the way forward instinctively. If you stop moving, you will lose your bearings and the sand will confuse you further. I wish for that not to happen for you so please consider this a reminder (of a strong sort!) to keep walking. The way forward (in your world and in your own life) will clear and you'll move quickly again.

Right now? One foot in front of the other always. And don't forget your goggles!

All my love 2U,

Prince

On leaving fear behind

Dearly Beloved,

“WE are gathered here today to get through this thing called life.”⁹

The key word there is WE. All of us. Together. There is no me. There is no you. WE. In times where there is chaos and division, the only answer is to join together. Create a WE from me and you so that the power is magnified.

YOU. Visionaries, way-showers, leaders of all stripes. YOU chose to be here at this time. Don't allow fear to steal that which you are BORN to do.

Please trust me when I tell you there is nothing to fear. There is a big change going on, you don't need me to tell you that. You can see it with your own eyes. So, trust that. Trust that you know what yours is to do.

What is YOURS to do and how can you join with WE to do it? How do you make your voice heard?

Ask me. In your own quiet time, in your own space, ask me. I can give you a sign, a nudge, a word. But my challenge to you is to tune in to your own inner wisdom and see what bubbles up. Can you act on it? (Even if what bubbles up is to sit in the silence?)

I am never far from your energy, as any good Ascended Master is. (Okay, there are only GOOD Ascended Masters, it's true. You get my point, yes?)

The Power of WE can turn away any darkness. Any fear.

Trust.

All my love 2U,

Prince

⁹ Let's Go Crazy, Prince ,1984

A question FOR U

Dearly Beloved,

Last we spoke, we talked about the power of WE. Today's message is about the Question of U. Of course, I wrote a song about it while I was there in the physical with you and there are just a few short verses:

*So what is the answer to the question of U
What do I look for, what shall I do?
Which way do I turn when I'm feeling lost?
If I sell my soul, now what will it cost?
Must I become naked? No image at all?
Shall I remain upright? Or get down and crawl?
All of the questions in my life will be answered
When I decide which road to choose
What is the answer to the question of U?¹⁰
U.*

Listen now with your soul and see if you can figure out the message. It's there for U, if U want it.

All my love 2U,

Prince

¹⁰ The Question of U, Prince, 1990

A time to play

Dearly Beloved,

*"We're going to play in the sunshine
We're going to get over
I'm feeling kind of lucky to night
I'm going to find my four-leaf clover
Before my life is done
Some way, somehow, I'm going to have fun!"¹¹*

You are all so very serious these days. I can feel the heaviness from way up here! And believe me when I tell you that I know and lived that heaviness for many years.

You know what always saved me? My sense of humor. My ability to laugh at myself (and others, forgive me). It kept me from cracking up on days when it was difficult to find something positive on the horizon.

Please take this as a reminder that there is always time for a laugh or a giggle. Sounds simplistic, I know. But it helps you stay in the moment instead of worrying about what's ahead or what has passed.

What kind of Ascended Master would I be if I insisted you deal with only the most important things? There is always time for fun and it helps you manage the important stuff better. Would I lie to you? Never!

Here's a story of how I found my fun - yes, ping pong. (Okay, I was somewhat competitive about it but for me, that was fun. Also, I liked how he told the story. See? Fun!)

All my love 2U,

Prince

¹¹ Play in the Sunshine, Prince, 1987

Would you try?

Dearly Beloved,

Today, I'm asking you this question that comes from a (rather lascivious, I admit) song I wrote called "Come"¹². Leaving aside the earthly pleasures I discuss in it, the central question I asked was this: If U had the chance 2 see the future, would U try?

What does that mean to you? What does 'seeing the future' mean to you? Do you imagine that it involves seeing where you will live or how many children you have or things like that?

Or might it be more about seeing who you are now because truly, we are all things at the same time. We are all we have ever been and all we will ever be at the same time. So, is there a future to see or can you see it all now?

Interesting concept, isn't it? Is there really a future or can you choose to see it all NOW? What would you do with that information and how would it change what you're doing now?

If I handed you a crystal ball and asked you to peer inside, what would you have show up? What if the crystal ball was really you peering into your soul? Are the answers there? (If not there, where?)

Here's my humble suggestion: take these questions into your own quiet space, whatever that is. Open your mind to the idea that all is now and everything that was and will be is right now. Can you see your future?

I'm being especially enigmatic today, I know. But it is not for me to give you answers. It is for me to ask the questions so that you can get your own answers. Because those are the only ones that matter, beloved.

All my love 2U,

Prince

¹² Come, Prince, 1994

The support is there but you have to ASK!

Dearly Beloved,

When I first connected with Lisa just about a year or so ago, she was not ready to meet with me. In fact, she turned me away. I knew that was just temporary and hung around waiting for her to see what opportunities were available when she collaborated with me.

At first, I worked just with her, healing some left-over grief, helping her see how she was ready to open up to this new phase of her work and reminding her that discipline was not only NOT a naughty word but something she would need as we went forward together.

When it was shared with her what our greater work would be, she kept asking me "How am I going to do this? I don't even know where to start!". Oh, the angst she put herself through trying to use her human "logic" to find the path when, in fact, there would never be a path to be found. Sometimes, a belief in magic and miracles is necessary and while she had that to a degree, it was not a degree that could sustain this new energy.

Little by little, she opened up to me and trusted that I would guide her to do the things that she couldn't fathom ever doing. Now, a year later, she is ready for the next portion of our work.

And again, she says "I have no idea what the heck this even is or how to get there." What's different this year, though, is that she KNOWS that I will provide the next step. She's seen for herself that I can do all kinds of magic (yes, I really did get her out of that middle airplane seat and find her super affordable office space just minutes down the road!) and now knows that any path I show her is one that's been planned together on another level.

Many of you are drawn to the energy I am now without having heard much of my work when I was in the physical. You wonder why the calling when you might not have even felt a connection before.

As with Lisa, you and I have a soul agreement to co-create something together. Whether that is for five minutes or five lifetimes, it's always your choice and I honor that. Whether it's for something that only impacts you or impacts millions, I honor that.

But you must acknowledge that agreement for us to start. You must trust me that in my Ascended Master energy I know the parameters of that agreement and will never ever lead you astray.

It's like that whenever you align with and ask for support from any High Vibration Being in Spirit. They know your soul and are there to help in whatever way is asked. If you're not asking, you're missing out on love on an unconditional level and that would be a shame.

What could you do if you had the support of all the heavens on your side? Would your soul be able to fly even higher? Would you do things you had no idea you could do?

Find out, why don't you?

Prince

On removing your mask

Dearly Beloved,

It can be difficult to let people see who you are because the fears get amplified - yours for being vulnerable and theirs because they are so terrified of it - that it feels too big to deal with so we all walk around with masks on.

It's only when you are willing to let that mask slip off (even a bit) that you will see what comes next. Until that time, all the steps you take are leading you in a direction that is false and what is the point of that, from a soul perspective?

You did not come into this incarnation to pretend to be someone/ something you are not. You came to experience all the colors of your soul. Masking them out of fear will never, ever get you what you desire. Is it hard? Yes. I won't lie. Is it worth it? Yes. I won't lie there, either. As you read this, think about what mask(s) you are wearing and ask yourself what you are afraid of. Ask yourself what would happen if you left the mask home one day. What is the worst that can happen? Ask yourself. The answer will be very different than you expect. "

I don't have an answer for you that you don't already have within you. Your work is to go within yourself and ask your soul to take you back to a place that would benefit (the work you want to do). It can be a place, a lifetime where it has direct bearing on who you are today, so you can see the clearest connection.

You are the sum of everything that has come before you in your soul. All experiences are contained within you. Bring them out or not, maybe they matter or not. Recognize that we come into each lifetime with an enormous amount of skill, but we don't remember that it's there. Remembering who you have been empowers you in this lifetime.

All my love 2U,

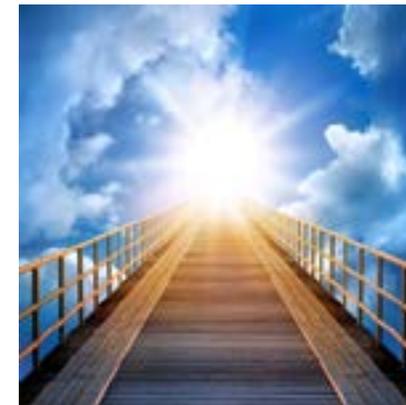

Prince

On supplication and why it's time to release that energy

Dearly Beloved,

Some here have lived in an energy of less than and not worthy. "Fear God, you're a sinner, you're not worthy ..." It had to be that way so that you could find your way, CHOOSE to be equal.

If every soul broke off from the divine and realized that they were a part of the whole, there would be no need for evolution of the soul. Everyone is equal in the eyes of ALL THAT IS.

Because you separate out for some reason, you forget you are part of that and the journey back to that wholeness IS the whole journey. Begin to think "I AM equal to the Divine. I am equal with Ascended Masters and Saints and Angels."

What is available when you choose to no longer be 'less than' but to be 'equal to'?

All my love 2U,

Prince

Be Bolder

Dearly Beloved,

It will surprise none of you, I'm sure, that we have known each other in a different space and time. In fact, we are of a soul family, if you can imagine that, and I am calling you all to join in a family celebration. The celebration is that your heart is needed now. Whether you were open to my message when I was in a physical body doesn't matter. What matters is that you hear me now.

You heed the call to join in with the cosmic energy I bring and use it as a compass to move forward. You think you are aligning with me; instead, think of it as aligning with the Universal frequency of LOVE. I am a representative of that (as are you). I just happen to have built a huge and very public platform around it. That's the only difference between us. Let LOVE be always your guide and use the frequencies of my recorded work to flow into it easier.

Look, you have to trust everything inside you if you are going to really BE in this world and do your best while you're here. I listened to no one. Some might say that was my downfall in the end. Okay. Maybe it was. But I chose to live my life the way I was guided, the way I wanted, and I did pretty good. So can you."

"My heart aches for all of humanity as it goes through such an enormous time of upheaval. While many of us (physical and non) knew this was coming, the reality of it has hit hard. Between weather devastation, mass shootings, uncaring and indifferent leaders and glaring issues of injustice getting worse each day, it can be a hard world to be in now. I want you to know I understand. I sympathize with how you must be feeling as I have been in that place many, many lifetimes.

I have said before and will repeat here: Love is the answer to every single question you can ask in the world.

It is as simple as that. It is as difficult as that. And I am not just talking here about love for one another, but you must begin with yourself. Always with yourself. So many man-made tragedies spring from that unloved space within. So much pain that is played out on a large stage.

If you knew the love that we have for you, if you felt you were never alone and always had support, would you be willing to love yourself first? Or would you continue to give to others that which you so desperately need yourself?

This energetic roller-coaster ride you are all on will end at a point soon as all things do, of course.

And I'll ask you at that time - what lesson, what gift will you take from this time of chaos and turmoil? Because there are untold numbers of both encased in this space. If you take only one, let it be that you opened your heart to YOURSELF.

That you were willing to be what you think is needed from outside yourself.

I am with each of you as you wish and ask. (Asking is the key.) Don't hesitate to call on me if you need an extra dose of love for yourself or someone else or BOTH!"

All my love 2U,

Prince

We need a new breed, leaders, stand up, organize!

Dearly Beloved

It IS time for YOU to stand up. Yes. And it is time for you to look at what you are doing to create a better world not for your kids or their kids but FOR YOU. Right now. Right where you are. I don't care about your political affiliations. Taking care of your world is a non-partisan choice. Open up to what is needed in YOUR world, right now.

Isaiah 11:6 reads:

The wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the young goat, and the calf and the lion and the fattened calf together; and a little child shall lead them.

Who are the ones ready to lead? The 'new breed' who are standing up and organizing? And are they only children? Or just those who came to bring a different vision?

You could be one of them.

What are you doing to stand up for your world and your vision?

You may not think you have what it takes to lead. It doesn't only mean standing up in front of the crowd and saying, "NO MORE!" (like this young woman, Emma Gonzalez, one of the Florida school shooting survivors).

It means the quiet decision to bring kindness to every situation. It means opening your heart to more love when you just want to close it and run away. And so much more. I've talked about it with you many, many times.

Say it with me: We need a new breed, leaders, stand up, organize. We need a new breed, leaders, stand up, organize. We need a new breed, leaders, stand up, organize. We need a new breed, leaders, stand up, organize. We need a new breed, leaders, stand up, organize. We need a new breed, leaders, stand up, organize.

YOU are the new breed. Leaders. Stand up! Organize. I love you.

All my love 2U,

Prince

*“Anna Stesia come 2 me, talk 2 me, ravish me
Liberate my mind
Tell me what U think of me, praise me, craze me
Out this space and time”*

All rights reserved (c) 2018 Lisa Wechtenhiser